Dear Parent/Guardian

Dear parent/carer,

To support their learning in English lessons, your child will be set weekly homework on the online platform Educake. The homework will be quiz-based; the questions will relate to the subject being explored in lesson or revision of a text previously studied.

Please can you encourage your child to regularly complete their Educake homework.

Furthermore, some English teachers may set additional work to be completed at home, especially as we near the examinations. Students are also encouraged to attempt extended writing tasks in their own time, which their English teacher will happily feedback on. Additionally, watching and discussing issues in the news is another way you can support your child at home; this is owing to one of the English Language exams regularly focussing on current affairs. Finally, revision guides for each of the Literature texts studied will be sent home with your child before October half-term; please ensure they are using these to revise for their upcoming PPEs.

It is hoped that this extra work at home will support your child achieve the best grades possible in their English Language and Literature GCSEs.

Please contact me if you have any further questions.

Yours sincerely,

K Leaning
